All events are free of charge and open to everyone

The University of Iceland welcomes you to Equality Days, held annually since 2009. This programme includes events in English and non-verbal events – please visit jafnretti.hi.is for a programme including events in Icelandic. Equality Days are a collaboration between all the universities in Iceland where the many branches of equality and feminism intersect, and always looking for productive ways of examining issues such as diversity, privilege, marginality, power and discrimination.
